

It has come to my attention that the FCC is proposing to expand its Low Power FM service in such a way as the new LPFM stations could take priority over current FM translator stations like K-LOVE (104.3, 96.9, and 102.3 locally in my area). My family and I have financially supported K-LOVE for almost 3 years now and find it to be a wonderful Christian-based, family-friendly source of encouragement and ministry. It is very important to me, as a stay-at-home mother, that my 2 young children hear Godly truth every day and throughout each day in order to strengthen the values that my husband and I cherish and wish to teach our young children. The K-LOVE Ministry Radio also encourages my husband and I and keeps us focused on God. Thus, it is imperative to my family personally that K-LOVE continue on its mission.

If K-LOVE Radio were to become non-existent for the benefit of an LPFM broadcaster, our community would lose a valuable resource of Contemporary Christian Music that reaches all people with a popular style of music with a focus on Christ, thus eliminating a positive source of encouragement to our community. In this day of high negativity, anger and aggression as evidenced in all sorts of media, this must not happen! As a society, we need more loving, positive, and encouraging media, not less. Therefore, we need more K-LOVE stations (and similar Christian stations). In conclusion, please do not expand the Low Power FM Stations. As a society, we cannot afford to lose a national source of encouragement as found in K-LOVE. Thank you for your time and consideration.
Respectfully submitted,
Michele Mink
